

Fact Sheet
Judicial Security
2022

- ▶ The U.S. Marshals Service has been responsible for protecting the federal judicial process as the enforcement arm of the federal courts since 1789.
- ▶ The U.S. Marshals protect the judicial process by ensuring the safe and secure conduct of judicial proceedings and protecting federal judges, jurors and other members of the federal judiciary.
- ▶ Protecting court officials and safeguarding the public is a responsibility that permits no errors. It is a comprehensive effort accomplished by anticipating and deterring threats to the judiciary and by continuously developing and employing innovative protective tactics.

2022 Data
Number of federal court districts protected by the Marshals	94
Number of judicial facilities protected by the Marshals	888
Number of federal judges protected by the Marshals	approx. 2,700
Number of federal prosecutors and court officials for whom the Marshals have protective responsibility	approx. 30,300
Number of threats and inappropriate communications against protected persons in fiscal 2021	4,511

How the mission is accomplished:

Employing a national network of deputy U.S. marshals, physical security specialists, intelligence analysts support staff, and contractors the agency:

- Ensures the safe and secure conduct of judicial proceedings
- Provides protection for federal judges, other court officials, witnesses, jurors, the visiting public and prisoners
- Oversees security services performed by 5,700 court security officers in 94 U.S. District Courts and 12 circuits of the U.S. Court of Appeals
- Installs and maintains security systems for federal courthouses and other judicial facilities
- Assesses, investigates and mitigates threats against the judiciary 24/7
- Operates a Threat Management Center, which serves as a consolidated protective information sharing center
- Trains federal, state, local and international law enforcement partners and stakeholders on matters of judicial security through the National Center for Judicial Security
- Protects Supreme Court justices when outside the Washington area
- Protects the deputy attorney general and other executives and officials